

English:

We are covering a unit on traditional tales, focussing Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. We have already worked on creating an eighth dwarf and during the coming week we will be taking part in drama and creative writing all linked to Snow White.

Maths:

It's time for fractions! We are going to start by introducing halving as the opposite of doubling, then quartering. We will also begin with fractions of an amount such as sharing out food for a picnic before looking at halving one item e.g. halving a shape.

Summer weather:

We are due some more warm weather and sunshine! Please ensure your child has some long-lasting sun block applied before school as we are unable to assist them with this. A sun hat would also be much appreciated for longer periods outside such as lunchtime.

Art:

We are going to be learning about Vincent Van Gogh and the famous Sunflowers painting as it ties in nicely with our overall theme of plants and growing. We will look at some of his other art too. Please take some time to Google and discuss some of Van Gogh's art with your child.

Have a lovely weekend!

Love, The Year One Team
